

Make your Valentine's card

Make a tic-tac-toe pattern.

Instead of using circles and X's, use X's and hearts on the tic-tac-toe board.

Make a line of three hearts running diagonally, horizontally, or vertically on the board.

Then, write something like, "You won my heart!" »

Make a queen (or king) card

Use a king or queen card. Take a king or queen card from a deck of cards. Glue it onto the front of a blank card. Then, write, "You're my queen" or "You're my king" on the card

Use a maze.

Go online and print out a small maze.

For an added Valentine's Day effect, try printing a maze in the shape of a heart.

Glue the maze to the front of a blank card. Either on the inside of the card or on the front, write: "You are a-maze-ing." »

Stencil a key shape onto your card.

Pick up a key stencil at a local craft store or simply trace around your own set of keys.

Draw a key shape on the front of the card and color it in in Valentine's Day shades like reds or pinks.

Then, write on the card: "You have the key to my heart."

Stencil on puzzle pieces.

Take two connecting puzzle pieces and lie them flat on card side-by-side.

Trace around them using a pen or pencil.

Color them in in Valentine's Day shades, like pink or red.

Write on the cover or inside of the card something like: "We're a perfect fit!"
